Analysis

Current Law:

Mel Noland Woodland Incentives and Fellowship Fund

MNWIFF, administered by DNR, is used for various purposes, including the (1) the Woodland Incentives Program, and the cost-share assistance under the program and (2) the Mel Noland Fellowship Program. The Woodland Incentives Program assists eligible landowners in conducting woodland management and the Mel Noland Fellowship program supports students seeking a career in fields relating to natural resources.

The fund consists of (1) up to $200,000 annually of the proceeds of the agricultural land transfer tax that are attributable to the taxation of instruments of writing that transfer title to parcels of land that are entirely woodland; (2) revenues collected by DNR from the payment of charges imposed for its assistance in implementation of an approved practice; (3) money distributed from the Chesapeake and Atlantic Coastal Bays 2010 Trust Fund; (4) a portion of the revenues derived from the forestry practices on designated lands owned and managed by DNR; and (5) specified mandated appropriations to the Fund.

By September 30 of each year, DNR must report to the Senate Committee on Education, Energy, and the Environment and the House Environment and Transportation Committee on the use of funds credited to MNWIFF including an identification of and the reasons for those revenues derived from forestry practices on designated lands owned and managed by DNR that were not credited to the fund.

Agricultural Land Transfer Tax

Subject to specified exemptions, an agricultural land transfer tax is imposed on an instrument of writing that transfers title to agricultural land. A portion of the tax is retained by the county in which it was collected and a portion is remitted to the Comptroller. Included among the revenue remitted to the State is all of the agricultural land transfer tax revenue generated from land that is entirely woodland. Up to $200,000 of the revenue from woodland transfers and from a separate surcharge imposed on an instrument of writing that transfers title to agricultural land is deposited in MNWIFF each year.
